STEWART RESIGNS UNIVERSITY POSITION

Participate Urges MSU Speaker At Commencement Last Night

Ralph McGill urged Murray State University's graduating class to be participants in his commencement address Monday night and warned that in a democracy it is only when the majority decides that a minority can control.

McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, criticized the "best people" of the South for keeping the civil rights struggle and permitting extremists of the right and left to move into the vacuum created by their withdrawal.

He cited Selma, Alabama, as an example of what can be done by the "good people" when they take a stand for decency. "There were good citizens at Selma — ministers, preachers, gentle-faced men with conviction — all there as witnesses to moral truth and the moral force of this country," McGill said. "These have been amazed and led about by the Klan and White Citizens Council types, but their action at Selma shook the nation and its conscience."

"It frightens me to have some Southern political leaders and newspapers as well as persons outside the South, say that communism is behind the race unrest in this country. Do such people know what they are saying? Do they understand that they are saying that it is communism that wants to give these Americans the right to vote, to go to school, to have an equal opportunity, no more, no less?" Pension Checks In Calloway Are Reported Higher (Special to the Ledger & Times) NEW YORK, May 31 — A record high of nearly $2,500,000 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Calloway County in the past year.

This was 33.0 percent more than they were getting three years ago, when the total was $1,899,000 locally.

The figures are contained in the latest annual report of the Social Security Administration.

Examination of its figures, which are detailed for every county in the United States, shows that the average amount paid locally was greater than in most areas.

As of last December, Calloway County residents were collecting at the rate of $700 a year. This average compared favorably with the $700 per year going to those in the rest of the East South Central States.

These pension payments, which are available to retired or disabled workers and their dependents, are paid from the trust funds of the Social Security Administration.

New Death Record Set On Highways

by United Press International More persons died on the nation's roads during the three-day holiday than in any Memorial Day weekend before.

A final United Press International tabulation at 11 a.m. EDT today showed 350 persons were killed in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Monday.

A final breakdown showed:

Traffic	630
Drownings	133
Planes	6
Miscellaneous	86
Total	753

California counted 37 traffic deaths, Michigan was next with 40, New York had 30, Pennsylvania 28 and Illinois 27.

Only Alaska, Hawaii, Rhode Island and Vermont had no traffic fatalities.

The previous National Safety Council record for a three-day Memorial Day weekend was set last year, when 490 persons died in traffic accidents. A record for four-day Memorial Day weekends was set in 1963, when 525 persons died on the nation's highways.

Howard Pyke, president of the safety council, called the holiday a "tragic weekend" and said the traffic deaths toll for the year would soar above 50,000 lives.

"Who can seriously challenge President Johnson's statement that traffic accidents are the second most serious problem facing the nation?" he asked.

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We liked the down to earth logic of Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, who addressed the MSU graduates last night.

He is a thinker with the experience, travel, and age to give him a scope of outlook not held by many.

He urged his audience to listen for the best of the drum to find their place in this world.

To us that was one of the most important things he said. And, provides us with one of the keys or reasons for an education.

How can a person in high school know what he would like to do if he has seen so little of the world that he does not even know enough to make a career selection?

College does open up unknown avenues and vistas. Taking a variety of subjects exposes a person to various areas which, formerly, he knew nothing about.

Sort of like trying to get a kid to eat spinach or cauliflower. He won't eat it, says he does not like it. How does he know whether he likes it or not if he has never eaten it?

Some young folks do know what they want for a career while they are in high school but they are few and far between, and exceedingly fortunate, we might add.

As Ralph McGill told the MSU graduates last night, a drum beats for each of us and we should listen for our drum.

The importance of the college to Murray was emphasized to us last night when ten people from New Jersey sat to our left. They had all

A Bible Thought For Today

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.

No other religion offers the assurance of life everlasting. Christianity alone does this because its founder returned from the grave and actively entered into the experience of mankind.

COIN Collectors' Corner

By ROBERT SYMONSON

THE REAL MISS LIBERTY

Among our modern U. S. coins, the rarest is the Standing Liberty Quarter. Once in a great while one of these will be found in your change, but when it is, the date is usually completely obliterated. Without a date, it has no numismatic value.

This handsome coin was introduced in 1916 when the Treasury Department, in a surprising move, brought out three completely new coin designs in a single year. We are discussing them in separate columns.

Pre-War Year
The year 1916 was turbulent. We were at the brink of the First World War. The nation was in a patriotic mood and the Standing Liberty Quarter reflects that feeling (see illustration).

The design is the creation of Herman A. MacNeil. It is intended to show the weakness of our nation to the weakness of progressivism. The upright figure of Liberty shown the left arm upraised holding a shield. In her right hand she holds an olive branch of peace. Thus, we showed the world we were prepared to fight, but would still prefer peaceful ways.

The reverse shows our traditional eagle, but in full flight rather than in the previous static pose. MacNeil borrowed his eagle from the designs of Christian Gobrecht and August St. Gaudens.

Sudden Change
This reverse design was suddenly changed in 1917. The eagle was raised on the new design. No reason was given, but it is believed the change was made to improve stacking of the coin.

The obverse (face) was changed in 1925 to improve the wearing quality of the date. There are three major varieties because of these changes. However, only two varieties are recognized. Variety I bears both 1916 and 1917 dates. Variety II begins with the 1917 date.

Lemable Must Be Perfect Before Pitching

By JEFF MEYERS

UPI Sports Writer

Jack Lemabe must be perfect before breaking into the Chicago White Sox pitching rotation.

Lemabe was one hit shy of perfection Monday, giving up a lone, embarrassing single to Joe Foy and hurling the White Sox to an 11-4 victory over Boston after Chicago won the opener 1-0 on John Buschard's five-hitter.

An established middle-class reliever, Lemabe finally got a shot at going the distance but pitched himself back into the bullpen.

"I decided to give him a chance at starting Sunday because he pitched well in relief in his last outing," Chicago manager Eddie Stanky said after the game. "I might start him in spots from now on, but I'll keep him in the bullpen since we're short-handed there."

Deep On Starters
With the likes of Bushard, Tammie John, Joe Horien, Gary Peters and Juan Pizarro, the White Sox are deep in starters but have had to depend on Bob Locker, 30, innings and Eddie Fisher 29, innings for relief.

Young Bruce Howard, who gives Stanky an added starter, blanketed New York over the final three innings Saturday, John hurled a shut-out against the Yankees Sunday and Bushard and Lemabe weren't scored on Monday to run Chicago's string of consecutive scoreless innings pitched to 20.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit, California swept a pair from the American League-leading Cleveland Indians 7-2 and 4-3. Baltimore whipped Minnesota 5-1 before losing 7-4. Washington shelled New York 2-1 after dropping the opener 4-2, and Detroit topped Kansas City 5-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh won a doubleheader from Chicago 3-2 and 5-3. San Francisco ripped Cincinnati 8-4. Los Angeles whalloped Atlanta 10-5. St. Louis edged Houston 3-1 and Philadelphia stopped New York 7-2 before losing 8-1.

First All-Star
Lemabe, a Boston cutoff making his first start in the AL in two years, showed down his former teammates for seven innings before Foy lined a clean single to center leading off the eighth. In missing his record to 2-1, the 29-year-old right-hander struck out six and walked two.

"I got a reprieve when the White Sox purchased me from Houston last December," Lemabe said. "I'm glad to be back in the American League."

Lemabe was provided hitting support by Don Buford and Tom McCraw with three hits apiece and Buford and Tom Agee with four runs each as the White Sox scored three runs in the first inning and four in the fourth.

In the opener, Moose Skowron singled home Floyd Robinson in the seventh inning to hand Bushard his 10th victory in 19 lifetime decisions against the Red Sox.

Earl Wilson allowed seven Detroit hits but dropped his third game against five triumphs.

Dennis McLain, the junior circuit's winningest hurler with an 8-2 mark, pitched his second out-hitter of the season as the Tigers whipped the cellar-dwelling A's. Norm Cash drove in three runs with a homer and two singles to back McLain, who lost his no-hitter in the fifth when Phil Roof lined a double to left center.

The Angels handed the Indians their second straight doubleheader setback and cut Cleveland's lead over second place Baltimore to three games. Jim Fregos' leadoff homer in the seventh inning provided the margin of victory in the opener.

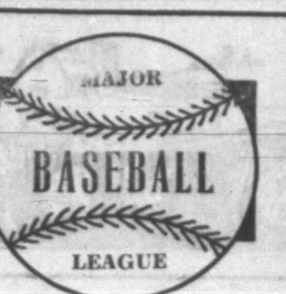

Knoop Homers
Dobay Knoop posed a two-run homer in the ninth and rookie pitcher Minnie Rojas recorded his first major league victory. Rojas went 5-13 innings, then needed relief help from Dean Chance, who was relegated to the bullpen after falling down in starting roles.

Bernie Allen hit a two-run homer to highlight a three-run Minnesota rally coming with two out in the eighth and breaking a 4-4 tie in the ninth. Harmon Killebrew whalloped two home runs for the Twins and reliever Al Worthington, winning his second game in three decisions, doubled and scored the third run in the eighth.

In the first game, home runs by Woody Held and Andy Etchebarren backed the combined six hit pitching of Steve Barber 3-2 and reliever Stu Miller. Dave Johnson went 4-for-4 for the Orioles.

Bob Saverine struggled home the winning run in the eighth inning to give Washington the victory in the second half of the doubleheader. Finch hitler Bob Chance led off the eighth with a double and pinch runner Pete Richert rode home on Saverine's blow.

Al Downing picked up his fifth straight victory in the opener when the Yankees took advantage of two errors to score a pair of unearned runs. Both the Senators and Yankees collected six hits.

Get First Dividend

The Giants, meanwhile, got their first dividend from Sadecki, who pitched the league-leaders to an 8-4 victory over Cincinnati, and Los Angeles' Edgerly Atlanta 10-6 in their Memorial Day night games.

In a pair of doubleheaders, Pittsburgh swept Chicago, 3-2 and 5-3, and New York split with Philadelphia, winning the nightcap 3-4 after losing the opener 7-2.

In the American League, Chicago shut out Boston twice, 1-0 and 11-0, California took both ends of a twin bill from first-place Cleveland, 4-3 and 5-1, Washington edged New York 2-1 in the second game after losing the opener 4-3. Minnesota earned a split by beating Baltimore 7-4 after suffering a 5-1 defeat, and Detroit trimmed Kansas City 5-2 in the only single game.

Bob Gibson was the recipient of Sadecki's batting apoplexy. The first-billing right-hander moved down the Astros on three hits, all singles, in gaining his sixth triumph in 11 decisions. Gibson struck out seven and walked two.

Sadecki, knocked out of the box in four previous starts with the Giants and twice added with losses, pitched three-hit ball through the first eight innings before weakening in the ninth.

Orlando Cepedas Represents Gateway, First Division, Cards

By JOE GERGEN

UPI Sports Writer

Orlando Cepedas' stature in St. Louis is rivaled only by the gleaming new Gateway Arch which towers above the Mississippi River.

Just the arch, a 630-foot structure, symbolizes St. Louis' role as the "Gateway to the West," the 6-foot-2 Cepedas represents the gateway to the first division for the Cardinals.

He represents even more to General Manager Bob Howsam, who stuck out his neck prior to the season by trading away established stars Ken Boyer, Dick Groat and Bill White for unproven talent. But Howsam increased his popularity tenfold with Cards' fans by acquiring the powerful Cepedas from the Giants for southpaw Ray Sadecki on May 8.

That trade now ranks as one of the most dazzling "steals" in years since Cepedas has transformed St. Louis from a punchline club struggling to stay out of the National League cellar into a possible pennant contender.

Made Four Hits
The muscular first baseman collected four hits, including his eighth homer of the season, in four appearances Monday night, drove in two runs and scored the other as the Cards whipped the Houston Astros 3-1. It marked St. Louis' fifth victory in its last seven games.

Cepedas has hit a stunning 429 since joining the Cards. Has more important, the Redbirds have rolled along at an 11-7 pace all compared to an 8-14 mark BC Before Cepeda.

"The Cardinals are on their way," exclaimed a joyous Cepedas in the St. Louis dressing room following the game. "A lot of people are going to be surprised. We're not too far from the first division."

To be exact, St. Louis is 1 1/2 games out of fifth place.

Cepedas has hit five homers in 18 games with St. Louis, two more than he had in 19 games with the Giants. His 429 pace during that span, coupled with his 286 mark for San Francisco, has lifted his batting average to .339 and his RBI total of 26 places him among the NL leaders.

He allowed five hits overall in evening his record at 3-3. San Francisco pounded four Cincinnati hitters for 12 hits, including homers by Willie McCovey and Tom Haller off Milt Pappas.

Willie Homer

Maury Wills led off the game with his first homer in 21 months and the Dodgers poured it on with 16 hits, including seven doubles, to tie their top output of the year. John Roseboro and Tommy Davis each rapped out three hits and winning pitcher Don Drysdale chipped in with two safeties and an RBI. The big right-hander was tagged for three Atlanta homers.

Roberto Clemente hampered and scored the winning run in both games of the Pirates' twin killing. Clemente, who scored the winning run when Don Kessinger committed his third error of the game in the eighth inning of the opening, clinaxed a three-run seventh-inning rally in the nightcap with a two-run homer off reliever Billy Conner. Clemente homered off Dick Ellsworth in the first game.

Jack Fisher hurled six strong innings of relief after the Mets lost their second game starter, Dick Seima, in a battle of brushback pitches. Fisher limited the Phillies to six hits and one run to notch his second victory. Philadelphia had used the seventh-pitching of Jim Bunning and homers by Richie Allen, Bill White, Bob Becker and Johnny Callison to win the first game.

Welshmen Up In Arms Over Possibility Of Losing Trousers

ABERTILLERY, Wales (AP) — Welshmen were up in arms today over the possibility of losing their trousers.

It seems that Britney Evans, chairman of Abertillery Urban Council, wants Welshmen to drop their pants in favor of the kilt. In order to persuade his Celtic council of the merits of the kilt, he has organized the first Welsh Kilt Conference to select a garment suitable for Welshmen to wear.

"All Celts have the kilt," said Evans, "why not us? And think what it will do to the Welsh woolen industry."

He said he would preside at the forthcoming conference "in my dark green kilt, and green stockings with white tops."

Ronald Jones, a 38-year-old storeman and captain in the Army Cadet Force, is a strong supporter of the campaign. He has already encouraged 12 youths in his detachment to wear kilts.

"I insist that there is historical evidence that Welshmen once wore the kilt," Evans said. "My wife thinks it is smart, even though there is a stunned silence when people see me wearing mine in the street."

But the idea of a national kilt for Wales left the Welsh tourist board cold. "We are not interested," said a board spokesman. Neither was Francis Payne, department keeper of the Welsh Folk Museum.

"The kilt for Wales is madness," he declared. "Welshmen never wore them. Even in Caesar's day, they wore trousers and long coats. We do not want to rely on bringing tourists to Wales by their false fancy-dress."

REPEAT PERFORMANCE—Mrs. Marie Hood, 21, is at it again in Edmond, Okla., where she was charged with indecent exposure for mowing her lawn like this. The charges were dismissed. This repeat performance comes just after her finale at Central State College.

Watch Those Phone Manners!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say something in your column about young people who telephone and ask, "Is Mary there?" And when they are asked, "Who is calling," they either hang up or say, "Never mind, I'll call later."

We have a 16-year-old daughter, and this happens at our home all the time, which is very annoying. Should we comment to all Mary's nameless callers? Or should we ask Mary to please educate her friends?

MOTHER, PERPLEXED
DEAR MOTHER: P: Not only "young people" but many who are old enough to know better are guilty of this rudeness. For those who need a lesson in the proper procedure to follow: Say, "Hello. This is Bill Forthright."

May I please speak to Mary?
(One father told me that a boy once called and asked, "IS AGNES THERE?" The father simply replied, "Yes," and hung up. He later explained to Agnes that the boy had merely asked him a question, and he answered it.)

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my older sister was engaged to marry a man I'll call Lester, but he broke the engagement to marry another girl. (He did the honorable thing by this girl because her father threatened to kill him.) My sister was heartbroken for over a year, but she got over it and is now married to a very nice fellow. Lester's wife had two more children in the meantime, but their marriage didn't work out so they are being divorced.

I bumped into Lester two weeks ago and he asked me out. I went, but I didn't tell my folks because they hate him. I have seen him several times, but I don't like sneaking around. I am 18 and Lester is 27. Do you see any reason why I can't date him out in the open? How can I make my folks accept Lester? He's really not a bad guy, he's just had some tough breaks.

DEAR KID: Without judging Lester (circumstances have already done that) may I suggest that you not reopen old wounds and add to your parents' anxieties by becoming involved with what strikes me as a loser.

DEAR ABBY: Your suggestion to barmaids who can't keep the wolves from making passes was great. You advised them to point out the lushest bartender in the place and say, "There's my husband!"

Well, I used a similar gag 22 years ago when I was a green cocktail waitress in Norfolk, Va. A good-looking sailor came into the bar and said, "How about taking you home, baby?" I pointed to the bartender and said, "There's my brother, he's taking me home." The sailor promptly grabbed her and gave me a real big kiss right on the mouth and said, "SIS!"

He was the bartender's kid brother, so help me!

HERE is evening glamour affected in the grand manner as only the versatile Sophie can interpret it. Superb Elegance. Femininity, elegance and simplicity are the essential keynotes of all Sophie collections and her evening gowns, like her daytime and cocktail clothes, possess a delicate, eye-appealing charm, this very minute chic and a marvelous combination of precision and ease. She excels in the creation of body-flattering and youthful designs because she believes a dress should make the most of a woman's figure and should be graceful and easy while in motion. Exquisite Fabrics. The skillful use of unusual, exquisite fabrics and the intricate but definitive shaping is well-evidenced in these fashions which were designed by Sophie with the assistance of Stephen Erskin. Each gown is decidedly different, each is distinctive, each is a superb way to look on a gala evening and they all have one thing in common: a lovely impact. Fine Detailing. Many of the gowns in the current collection have long matching stoles and outstanding details such as the divided back of the gown to the left, beaded embroidery and bows, as shown on the center figure and the "touch-and-go" body-slimming features of the black and white gown on the right.

SILK SURAH black and white print is gathered at the neckline. Stole is edged in black and white ostrich feathers.

Soviets Say That Discrimination Charges "Absurd"

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union Friday denounced as "absurd" charges that it discriminates against its Jewish citizens.

The British Communist party earlier this week had called on Soviet authorities to combat anti-Semitism.

The Russian reaction came in the current issue of the official English-language Soviet weekly distributed in London.

"Despite yams to the contrary, Jews in the Soviet Union enjoy the same rights and benefits as all Soviet citizens and take an active part in every aspect of the country's life," it said.

The Kremlin has been sensitive to charges of anti-Semitism that have cited discrimination against Jews in government jobs and in intellectual spheres and in interference with religious functions.

Therefore, observers said the British Communists' appeal must have come as a shock to Moscow.

The local Communist party suggested to the Russians that "the ideological struggle against the remnants of anti-Semitism be improved, and that greater care be exercised in the conducting of ideological work on religion and nationalism, so as to avoid impermissible crudities which have nothing to do with a principled Marxist position."

"The solution of these matters lies with the Soviet authorities," the statement added pointedly.

The Soviet response listed a number of spheres in which it said Jews in Russia occupy a larger number of posts than their share in the over-all population.

According to the 1959 census, it said, there are 2,268,000 Jews in the U. S. S. R.

Of these 875,000 reside in the Russian Federation, 840,000 in the Ukraine, 150,000 in Byelorussia, 94,000 in Uzbekistan and the remainder in Moldavia, Georgia, Lithuania and Latvia.

IT'S A TEST—The California Division of Highway Patrol and the University of California's Institute of Traffic and Transportation Engineering put up these signs over the Bayshore Freeway in San Mateo so motorists can pick their own speed and lane. The signs apply for only a few miles. It's a test to see if minimum speeds make traffic smoother, safer.

less, than other Americans? What sort of foolish person is it who would say that to seek the ballot, to want your child educated, to find jobs for the jobless, to train the unskilled so they may be employed—that this is a communist plot?

McCall urged the graduates to do something that would give them a sense of inner satisfaction and reward. "Try always to listen for the music of the drum to which you can march—remain yourself—sometimes lonely, often frustrated, but sure of the fact that you are, no matter how humble your place in life, important and meaningful as a created being."

Four hundred and forty-six persons were awarded degrees. Those graduating with high distinction were:

Steigner, Louisville; Harriet Ann Stromacker, Murray; Ann Robertson Walden, Paducah; Lily Evelyn Wallis, Murray; and Ann Hamilton Watson, Murray.

Graduating with distinction were:

Robert Davis Beard, Bardwell; Patricia Morris Brantley, Marion; Johnny Max Brown, Carmi, Ill.; Patricia Dawn Campbell, Bromall, Pa.; Danny E. Carver, Fulton; Sherrill Joyce Darrall, Paris, Tenn.; Dana Ann Dycus, Paducah; Joan Clare McGinness, Hickman; Charles H. Paschall, Farmington; Joseph Melvin Richardson, Pleasure Ridge Park; Wanda Dean Sundling, Fulton; Stephen Bennett Sharber, Mayfield; Wanda Theresa Vison, Cadiz; and Cheryl Berry Wiley, Louisville.

Dr. James S. Wilder told the graduating class on Sunday that man's deepest longing in this age is for security but that real security comes only to a man who is in vital touch with the living God.

Dr. Wilder, the president of Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn., spoke at the baccalaureate service for the 446 graduates.

"The average American's longing for security is evident in almost every realm," Dr. Wilder said. In politics, we observe increased demands on government to provide universal health insurance, old age pension, workman's compensation, unemployment insurance, and medical care for the aged. Organized labor is directing its major attention toward contracts that call for greater job stability, guaranteed annual wage, and the larger measures of material security.

Dr. Wilder said that the world is presently living through a revolution in its political, economic, and social structure that is equivalent to the French revolution except that it is worldwide.

"I don't mean to imply that security is evil or that men should not seek it. Security is a good thing if it is the proper kind," Dr. Wilder said. "Neither do I mean to say that God is opposed to change. God is the author of it. Although change has its dangers, God does not leave us to face these risks and perils alone."

A further increase in social security benefits may be in the offing. President Johnson stated recently that he would propose "across the board" changes when Congress convenes next January.

He will ask for higher minimum payments and higher maximums as well as a program for financing dental care for children under age six.

At the present time, pension checks are going to nearly 31 million persons in the United States, about three million more than was the case in 1962.

In Calloway County, the number of recipients is now 3,400, an increase pared with 2,922 at that time.

The reason that the local benefits are running higher than those in most communities is due to the fact that the level of earnings in the local area — and therefore the contributions to the trust funds — have been greater over the years.

Because of the sweeping changes that have been made from time to time in the social security system, more people are covered than ever before.

MAIN SPEAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George Order, D-Tenn., will be the main speaker July 22 at Groton, Conn., when he attends commissioning ceremonies for the nuclear-powered submarine Flasher.

Order was chosen to speak because he formerly commanded the original Flasher which sank 21 Japanese ships during World War II, giving it the distinction of sinking more enemy tonnage than any other American submarine.

The first Flasher was declared surplus after the war and this ship is its successor.

Mrs. Billy Thurman and Mrs. James Perkins received their masters degrees last night. The only ones who marched across the stage were those receiving the masters degree. The rest of the graduates stood where they were. A matter of time. Somebody figured it would take about 40 minutes just for the B. S. degree candidates to march across the stage.

Novel And Versatile Adhesive-Backed Products Solve Many Problems For Clever Homemakers

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

HAVE a counter top in a color you can't stand, a bookend with a rough base that tends to scratch table tops, a window that you'd like to black but can't because you need the light?

All of these problems and many more can be solved with some handy, dandy, adhesive-backed products that are remarkably easy to apply. You don't have to be a do-it-yourself wizard to get wonderful results with them.

Vinyl Top

A kitchen counter top that lacks appeal can be concealed with a counter covering made of heavy-duty vinyl plastic. It's washable and waterproof and the adhesive really adheres.

We've used this product in our own kitchen to cover a black linoleum top (dreadful to the eye). The shade we chose—a sunny yellow—brightens the entire outlook of the work center, and has worn beautifully.

Suede Base

The aid that smooths over the base of rough bookends, vases or other bric-a-brac has a suede-like surface that's all nylon.

Primarily designed to make vases and such scratch-proof, it can also serve to line silver drawers, sewing boxes or can make a great desk blotter.

For windows you want to block out but not black out, the adhesive-backed product is an embossed translucent plastic. It looks like frosted glass. It shuts out the view but allows light to enter.

Other Uses

It's great on windows that peek-a-boo on privacy and can also be employed for shower stall doors or office partitions. A "stained glass" pattern, also available with adhesive backing, provides another solution to window worries. Light comes through the brilliant designs to create a blaze of color for a room.

Varied Applications

The "stained glass" is being used in a variety of other ways, too—for French doors, glass table tops and lamp shades.
